CIVIL WAR IN RUSSIA HUNS CHECKED IN ITALY

Americans Forced into Kaiser Army—Submarines Losing Out While Air Battles Increase—Other War News

RIOT AND ANARCHY RUNS MAD IN RUSSIA

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A telegram reaching Amsterdam from a German source says the Russian army on the northern front has joined the Maximists and is marching on Petrograd.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 9.—The Rheinische Westfälische Zeitung of Essen, Germany, publishes a Stockholm telegram saying that Premier Kerensky has been arrested.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 9.—The Congress of Soldiers and Workmen's delegates today appealed to the Russian army to stand firm and to protect the revolution against imperialist attempts until the new government had obtained a democratic peace.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 9.—The Women's battalion, which was among the defenders of the Winter Palace, surrendered yesterday before the battle began.

NOTE.—A dispatch from Petrograd last night said that the women's battalion and the other government forces holding the palace were compelled to capitulate under the fire of the cruiser Aurora and the cannon of St. Peter and St. Paul fortress. The Maximists' account of the uprising said there had been no bloodshed.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Several transports from Kronstadt arrived in Petrograd yesterday carrying soldiers who had previously sided with the provisional government, says a dispatch to the Daily News from Petrograd. The correspondent gives the following extract from Nicolai Lenin's address to the Congress of Soldiers and Workmen's Delegates, on Wednesday:

The second revolution has been accomplished. We shall offer a peace acceptable to the common people of all countries, publish all secret treaties, take over all land and establish the control of workmen over all industry. The consequence will be the accomplishment of the third social revolution.

Conformation was obtained tonight that the former ministers of the provisional government who were arrested by the military revolutionary committee, have been incarcerated in the fortresses of St. Paul and St. Peter.

AMERICANS IN GERMANY FORCED INTO ARMY

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 9.—The time the practice of forcing into the German military authorities command any persons living in Germany who have lost their original citizenship without acquiring German nationality.

A new order says that former nationals of foreign states, including former Americans, will not be employed with the front line troops but must serve in the armies of occupation or elsewhere behind the front.

This applies to German-Americans who have returned to Germany to live after being naturalized in the United States. The children of such parents are subject to service in the trenches in case they have not completed the necessary steps to obtain American citizenship.

HUNS AFTER VENICE: ITALY GETTING HELP

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—(British admiralty per wireless press).—The Austro-German forces in northern Italy, overcoming the resistance of the Italian rear guards, are advancing toward the Piave river, the war office announces.

ITALIAN MILITARY ZONE, November 8.—Both British and French troops are going toward the front. The French and British representatives who have come to Italy had a conference of two hours today with King Victor Emmanuel. The military measures called for by the present situation were discussed in active and cordial collaboration. On leaving the king the party visited the British and French soldiers on the way to the front.

GERMAN SUBMARINES LOSING OUT FAST

The Italian campaign is magnificently dramatic. The slow defeat of the submarines by the allied navies is much less so. Yet the fate of the German empire turns upon submarines, not upon anything that Mackensen can do in Italy. In importance there is no comparison between any land battle that Germany can possibly win and the sea battle that she is steadily losing. Once her hopes at sea are gone the land campaigns remain only as a means by which she can at best make the allies pay dearly for a success she cannot prevent. And her hopes at sea, judging by the submarine records of the last few weeks, are definitely shrinking. The low record for submarine sinkings was achieved during the first week of the present month. Both Lloyd George and (Continued on Page Four)

Revolt Spreads Moscow Captured

Telephone advises received from San Francisco at midnight last night state that the revolutionary committee, supported by the military garrison, has taken over all government offices in Moscow, according to a telegram received by David R. Francis, the American Ambassador, from the American Consul General in Moscow.

PETROGRAD, November 9.—Rumors reaching Petrograd today were to the effect that General Korniloff had made his escape. Kerensky's whereabouts are unknown.

EX-POLICE MCGOWAN DIES BY ACID FUMES

John McGowan, formerly sergeant in the Richmond police department, died suddenly at his home, Sixth street and Barrett avenue, yesterday. McGowan had been employed for the past two years as pipe-fitter at the Giant Powder plants. On Wednesday he was overcome by fumes from acid, where he was working and his condition has been quite serious since then. He was attended by Dr. W. E. Cunningham.

McGowan had made his home here for ten years. For several years he was employed by the Standard Oil Company and six years ago entered the Richmond police department, retiring two years ago. Since that time he has been following his trade as pipefitter for the powder company.

McGowan leaves a son, Emmett McGowan, an attaché of the city engineer's office. The body is at the Smallwood Undertaking parlors where arrangements for the funeral are being made.

John McGowan was a good man, and he leaves a host of warm friends in Richmond who will mourn his loss. He was highly respected, and known always as "fair and square." He was a member of the Eagles. The funeral will take place Monday.

M. E. Ladies Aid Scores a Hit

F. J. Southerland and Brother Calfee both dropped in last night to rub it in on us by telling what a fine dinner they had at the Wesley M. E. church last evening, given by the Ladies Aid. We knew it would be fine, all right, and had two tickets to it, and our mouth all picked up to the right angle, and a good appetite worked up, and then the night reporter had to get sick and we had to work all night, writing copy with one hand and nibbling a ham sandwich with the other.

There was a big turnout at the dinner and everybody was very much pleased with it. They all said the dinner and everybody was very much pleased with it. They all said the good eats made by the ladies touched the right spot. Sure—but it was mean of them to come in here and rub it in on us' cause we had none. A goodly sum was realized.

SILLY GIRLS GET SOLDIER ON BRAIN

Humane Society Meets and Takes Action to Stop It

The Richmond society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and Animals of Contra Costa county held its regular monthly meeting last night at the office of Isaac Lester. Fred M. Neville, W. H. Conn, Hutt Brown, O. T. Dahl, and Secretary Coffee were in attendance.

The secretary was authorized to attend the State Humane Society which meets next Monday at Riverside, and represent the local society. The secretary fairly bristled with facts in reference to his work in this part of the state. He has in his possession, among other things, various letters written by foolish girls to soldiers.

If some of these girls, who have made little boobies of themselves, could see these letters in print with their names signed to them, it would be a good lesson for them. Nine times out of ten the soldier is to be pitied for the little soft, green gossiping of a girl throwing herself upon the soldier. One girl is now in the Detention Home at Martinez and two more will likely be sent there this week or next. Beware, foolish girls!

What in the world are the parents of these brainless little sillies thinking about that they do not look after their girls. It is just such dangerous monkey-business as starts girls on the road to ruin and fills the houses of prostitution.

If the parents will not take proper care of their girls, then the state and county has got to step in and do it for them, hence the sending of these girls to the county Detention Home.

Politics Begin to Warm Up

Our hated rival, or "steamed contemporary, or whatever you want to call it, the Richmond Independent, comes out yesterday with a long screed on county politics, and fixes the whole thing up to suit itself. We would puncture a lot of that alleged argument, only for lack of space, but will get around to it early next week. For be it understood that the News is some politician, from way back, and is going to be the warmest reading matter during this coming campaign that ever came down the pike.

This is the first campaign that we have had the pleasure of owning a newspaper of our own, in which we could say just what we think, and believe we are going to have fun this coming winter, spring and fall if we do not lay up a cent.

There is one candidacy, however, which the Independent overlooked entirely, and possibly intentionally, and that is the candidacy of Jack Galvon for the office of State Senator to succeed Sharkey. We understand from persistent rumor that a cold deck is going to be introduced at the right time, and of this we will enlighten the dear public later on.

500 Shells a Day Fired at U. S. Boys

Midnight dispatch from France: On the average 500 German shells daily have been coming over, but no damage from them has been reported.

The American infantry still is struggling with mud and water, despite the activity of the engineers in clearing the trenches.

The new hat adopted by the Americans is affording great comfort to the men. Both the infantry and artillery branches are wearing them under their shrapnel helmets, with the flaps over their ears.

The temperature is continually going lower.

THE MARTINEZ HOG STILL HAS BRISTLES

In the appointment by Colonel Veale of Captain Edward Jensen of the County Home Guards, it is evident that the Martinez Hog still has his bristles in good working order.

Captain Jensen is a most estimable man, and a good officer, and all that, but in Sheriff Veale Martinez already has the head of the organization, the Colonel, and that ought to be enough glory for one time, and the appointment of Lieutenant Colonel, second in command, be accorded to Richmond, as a matter of both deserts and courtesy.

It is likely that Colonel Veale overlooked this little nicety, for he is both a fair and just man and a good politician, and so we are calling his attention to it, in the best of humor and spirit, and am asking him to reconsider that appointment, and call a regimental meeting instead, and let them make a choice.

In Captain Long Richmond has a man and officer of the Home Guards that is in every way worthy of recognition. He has been a strenuous worker for the organization and deserves credit for it.

There should be no secession, or hard feelings, as all are a band of patriots, semi-soldiers and brothers. The News trusts the matter will be readjusted to the satisfaction of all.

DRUNK AND DRESSED UP.

Antonio Gavino got drunk and dressed up and then got sleepy, so he laid him down in a side street, with the sidewalk curb for a pillow and was enjoying a nice comfortable snooze, when along came the argus-eyed police force, "Richmond's Finest," and butted in, as they frequently do in such cases made and provided. They bundled Antonio into the hurry wagon, although he was in no hurry, and then yesterday handed him over to the tender mercy of Judge Jacobs, who gave him $10 and cost. Cheap enough.

Charles Anderson, who was run into by a drunken autocrat a few nights ago while driving his truck, found the chap in Oakland and had him arrested. Give him both barrels.

The local car men are preparing for their annual ball, to be held at East Shore park early next month.

The old Joseph Nicholl homestead is being remodeled and fixed up so its best friends won't know it. It is being added to and modernized, and will soon be a very handsome home place.

MORE ABOUT THAT COIN AND WHY IT LEAVES TOWN

News "Trade-at-Home" Campaign Getting Popular All Over Richmond—People Talk

The constant campaign being waged in Richmond by the News to get people to trade at home is drawing the fire of both sides to the controversy and becoming interesting. It is a vital problem and everybody recognizes it as such. Now you hear little knots of people discussing it and arguing it on the streets all over town. That is good. Any time you get the people to discussing anything you stand a chance of getting it solved.

Another lady phoned in last evening and said we should not think that it was the working man alone and his family that was doing the trading at Oakland. She said she sees fine automobiles from Richmond, owned by some of our "higher-ups," loaded up with bundles at the Oakland stores, largely food stuffs, and driving back to Richmond with the supplies. We do not doubt it, and are ashamed to have to say so in the interests of truth. Any man that can afford to keep an automobile can afford to trade at home, and ought to trade at home, and does not do his patriotic duty when he does not trade at home, and we do not care who he is or what the color of his hair is.

Some say they can save money by trading in Oakland and some say they cannot. We interviewed one lady yesterday who lives in Oakland and does half of her trading in Richmond. She bought drygoods of Jones & Walker here yesterday, a suit of clothes of Smith & Crain and other merchandise, as they will certify.

While we were in the Smith & Crain store he showed us goods which he is selling at a less price than can be got in Oakland or San Francisco. We told him we did not doubt it a minute, but that the people were not mind readers and he ought to get busy and tell them about it in the newspapers.

One most market phoned in and said that anybody who told us or told anybody else that they could buy the same leg of mutton in Oakland at 17 1-2 cents that was charged 35 cents for in Richmond did not tell the truth, and dared any such party to face him.

Mr. Beckhaus came in red-headed, as he is naturally, and was going to whip the editor, until we argued him out of it with a good cigar. He says he has thousands of dollars worth of canned goods which he is selling at retail today for less than they can be bought wholesale, and that the reason for it is because he bought them in large lots months ago before the big raise. As a general rule, over half the time, anyhow, Mr. Beckhaus will tell the truth.

Another party phoned in that she got eighteen pounds of sugar at Oakland for a dollar. Then it must have been on a special drive and along with a lot of other goods—maybe she had to take three pounds of coffee with it at 25 cents a pound that cost the dealer just half that.

It is true that you can buy meat of the Chinamen in Oakland cheaper than in Richmond, but what kind of meat are you getting? You take an awful chance on that. It may be diseased, tubercular or otherwise. You might save 50 cents on a meat purchase and then have to pay a $15 doctor's bill because of it, for appendicitis, and get cut open to boot. Rather dangerous experiment.

It may be true that a small saving might be made, occasionally. (Continued on Page Four)

MORE FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

The following should be read by all the people, and thoroughly digested. Especially should the wealthy classes read it, and memorize it and ponder over it. This is a world's crisis, and things are happening fast. In France the common people rose up in their wrath and cut the heads off their royal oppressors and distributed their wealth and their worldly possessions among the masses. Russia today is in a state of anarchy. The peasantry has seized the government and intends to partition the great landed estates out among themselves, killing those who oppose them. Such things may not happen in America for years, and then again they may happen next year. It has been brewing for many years. We are not taking up the right, or wrong of it at this time, but merely stating cold, positive facts, which any man is a fool not to consider. Any time that food gets so high that people starve, then the people will take the food forcibly and cut the throat of anybody who gets in the way. Before we would stand idly by and see our wife and child starve we would do that very thing.

This writer has pointed out thousands of times how the wealthy man, having gained sufficient for his own needs, should then be glad to devote the rest of his time, abilities and surplus wealth to the general good of his country and his fellow man. That is right in line with the doctrine of the Brotherhood of Man which we try so hard to teach.

The following is reproduced by the Literary Digest from the Toronto, Canada, Guardian:

"Heaping up treasures upon earth is one of the phases of the times that affects the world in general unfavorably. In Germany, Russia, France, the United States and Canada, says the Christian Guardian (Toronto), the same undesirable phenomenon occurs, and 'wherever it occurs, it gives rise to deep and widespread dissatisfaction.' Other countries, such as those that have remained neutral, though unnamed here, readily occur as within the same sphere of condemnation, for to this fact is charged the distressing plight in which they now find themselves. 'Every instinct of patriotism, every striving of humanity, every teaching of the Christian law of service, unite to condemn the amassing of wealth at such a time as this, for it is felt that 'it is nothing less than indecent for a small fraction of the people to heap up wealth while the rank and file of the nation are sacrificing home and financial prospects, health and efficiency, and even life itself, for the cause of freedom and the defense of country.' This is how the world looks at those who get rich in wartimes:

"Nero fiddling while Rome burned was a far less odious figure than the man of today who, while the whole civilized world is threatened with destruction, looks on with internal delight that this great world-conflagration is helping to swell his already swollen fortune. And while our lads are facing the deadly gas, the whistling bullet, and the shrieking shell, and our casualty lists run into the thousands every month, this man, untouched by it all, unctuously rubs his hands and thanks God for the profit which it means to him. If this be patriotism, God save us from it. Better far to come out of the war maimed or blind in body, or with fortune clear spent in the heroic effort to free the world, than to come through it with a whole skin and a fortune greatly increased.

"Stories have come to us again and again of men who have made hundreds of thousands and even millions of dollars out of the war, but they have come from men who told them in sorrow and shame.

"And more than that, even the worldly wisdom which foresees the danger of any struggle between wealth and massed and ballot-holding poverty cannot but deplore the fact that at such a time in the world's history wealth should be found wanting in patriotism. 'The very existence of great fortunes depends upon social solidarity, and if the rift between the classes and the masses widens sufficiently it is certain to swallow up many privileges which wealth has hitherto regarded as sacred. If wealth ceases to be patriotic it ceases to have any reason for its existence. If it has a right to exist at all it has a right to exist that it may serve the state, and the right to exist for its own sake will receive scant recognition in these days.

"And there is a feeling abroad in the world that not a little of its wealth is of the predatory type, which lives not to serve the people, but to prey upon them. In this belief lies revolution, and yet any one familiar with the sentiment of the people knows that the belief is widespread, and the alarming increase in the cost of the necessities of life has intensified it beyond any point ever before reached.

The average man has only hazy ideas how to remedy the evils from which he suffers, but he has very strong convictions that there is a remedy somewhere. For one thing, it should be emphasized that there is growing up an amazing mass of corporate opinion that the public cannot afford to entrust the control of the necessities of life to private management, and the plan that private management is more economical than public management will fail in the presence of a reasonable exploitation of the public in this life.

"The only way to a common wealth lies in the Christian highway of service, for when private greed forgets his duty, fellow it signs its own death warrant. The world's resources must be used for the many, not for the few, and the only civilization which can be permanent must recognize this fact. Civilization rests upon brotherhood."

The Methodist church at Winfield, Kansas, caught fire during prayer meeting last week and was completely destroyed, with a loss of $20,000. This will likely be taken advantage of by the brewers and distillers to claim the Lord is on their side.

Human nature is frail. Every man wants all of the news printed until he, himself, gets into trouble. Then he assumes the attitude that not everything is the public's business.

After this war is over a king or a queen won't count any more than a deuce or a four-spot.

A boy's principal problem in cold weather is how to wash without getting wet.

Fresh air may still be had at the old price, though the chances are you don't get enough of it.

Y. M. C. A. Meet Again Tonight

The local executive committee in charge of the Y. M. C. A. Thirty Five Million Dollar Drive, of which Richmond's allotment is $5,000 or over, will meet again this evening at 7:30 in the private office of J. C. Owens in the Elks building. Plans for the final details of the campaign will then be told.

At the previous meeting held Thursday evening the following captains were elected who will be in active charge of the drive: Captain Oscar Long, of the Home Guards, Rev. Frank Linder, pastor of the Wesley M. E. church, Mrs. John C. Gerlach, Mrs. Lulu Roe, Councilman H. O. Watson and Ralph W. Ames. Each of these captains will choose nine other assistants, making a total of sixty people. It is planned to allot certain portions of the city to each of these committees.

A canvass of all the factories both in the immediate and outlying districts will be in charge of a committee consisting of Mayor W. L. Lane, chairman of the executive committee, Chas. Cray and Senator J. C. Owens.

Captain Oscar Long will be in charge of the drive at Standard Oil Work and considerable support is anticipated from this source.

A dinner will be given all the workers of the Y. M. C. A. drive at the Richmond Club, Monday evening at 5:30, the following club workers having kindly volunteered their services as a committee in charge: Mrs. John Gerlach, President J. P. Osborn, Mrs. E. D. Evans, Mrs. C. P. Gibson, Mrs. C. M. McCollough and Mrs. Chas. Johnson.

Speakers from San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley in addition to local men will be present and following which the campaign will be declared open.

The Wesley ladies also cleaned up a good sum on their bazaar, as well as the dinner, Glad of it.

Ladies Auxilliary "Does Its Bit"

Mrs. Otto Poulsen gave an interesting whist party to the Mary B. Hamilton Auxilliary S. W. V. yesterday evening, at her home, 533 Thirteenth street, at which a large number of the ladies of the Auxilliary and others gathered for the good time that is always assured at any gathering at Mrs. Poulsen's. The cards were 25c each and the funds go to the Red Cross Christmas fund, which is thus helped out quite a bit.

The winners of the prizes were: first, Mrs. A. C. Berdick; second, Mrs. C. Peterson and consolation Mrs. S. McDonald. The favors were dainty and the recipients well pleased. The hostess served refreshments which were par excellent and everybody went home feeling that it had been good to be there.

WELL KNOWN MAN ENLISTS.
C. E. Audin, old time Richmond man and well liked and esteemed, and for a long time district manager for the Holms Supply Co., connected in a way with Standard Oil, enlisted in the army yesterday, in the Quartermaster's Department, and will report for national duty in a day or two.

Pacific Coffee Stores Co. Says Save Money

The Pacific Coffee Stores Co. has a branch in Richmond, at 516 Macdonald avenue, and they claim to be able to save the consumer considerable money on coffee. They explain this way: They have a chain of stores on this coast and buy in enormous lots, thereby being able to buy cheaper than the small dealer. They eliminate middlemen, and the big cost of elaborate tin cans, eliminate the cost of solicitors and of deliveries, and all this brings the expense account right down to bedrock, and the consumer is given the benefit. They also claim to handle the goods on a close margin, because they handle such a large amount of it. All of which sounds reasonable. Everybody is paying a whole lot nowadays for tin cans that they cannot eat or drink, also for middlemen and for delivery.

There will be a demonstration at their store today, with a cup of delicious coffee served free to all callers.

Oakland Factories Vigilante Committee

Following widespread damage among local factories through hostile agents having placed ground emery in bearings and otherwise damaging machinery, plans are being made by the manufacturers' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce for the formation of a "vigilance committee" to direct detective work and operate a secret service to apprehend the criminals.

The plan was started yesterday by V. K. Sturges, Oakland tire manufacturer, who reported that serious damage has been done through unknown meddlers tampering with machinery in Oakland and thus halting work on war munitions.

SCHRAMER ON THE JOB

We have been so busy lately that we have not had time to drop around and note what new mischief Schrader is up to, but venture to say that it is something terrible, all right, as that man is not happy unless he is stirring up something. We note a lot of trucks are seldom seen around here now. This proves that he is up to something, and also that it pays to map out a good business method and then stick to it. There is one man in this town that nobody can convince that it does not pay to advertise in the News—and that is Schrader. And he ought to know.

"Double Crossed" at T & D Today

"Double Crossed," a Paramount picture starring Pauline Frederick at the Richmond Theatre today, is a modern play of love and intrigue, with a tremendous feminine appeal. It is the story of a young society matron who discovers that her husband with whom she is very much in love and whom she has always set upon a pedestal, has in his youth, committed a serious slip. Miss Frederick's emotional acting in the scene where she overhears a detective trying to blackmail her husband with a signed confession, is superb and up to the highest standard.

Slacker Deserter Grabbed by Police

A party giving his name as John Delmore, has been under surveillance by the local police for some time, as probably a slacker, as he admitted his naturalization some place back east. The police notified the Federal authorities at San Francisco about him and they in turn telegraphed east to the address the man gave and got a line on him. It now turns out that he is a slacker, which is the same as an army deserter, and that his name is not Delmore, but Dinscino Tedrella. The police will take him over to the Federal authorities this morning. His nationality is somewhat in the dark, as he is himself, but he appears to be some kind of an Italian.

The night reporter, Frank Geritz, had to go and get sick yesterday, and so "Ye Scribe" has had to write every line in this issue of the paper, hotfoot around after the news and be busier than a hen on a hot griddle. We like to be busy, but there is such a thing as too much of a good thing. So if half the news is omitted, please overlook it this one time.

TELEGRAPH NEWS

Bonar Law have made public declarations that the submarine campaign has failed of its purpose, risking the gloomy condemnation of the calamity howlers. By German calculations of which no secret was made last March, England should be on her knees at the present moment. Instead he is fighting with increased vigor and an indefinite number of American troops, with their supplies, who have been safely transferred across the infested ocean.—S. F. Bulletin.

AREOPLANES GETTING VERY BUSY NOW

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The war office tonight issued the following statement on aerial operations:

During Wednesday morning low clouds and rain seriously hampered artillery operations. In the afternoon conditions improved and some successful artillery and photographic work was carried out by our aeroplanes. Our low-flying machines fired many rounds at hostile troops and transports, and a number of bombs were dropped on enemy trenches and billets.

During the night more than three tons of bombs were dropped on enemy airdromes.

More About That Coin

but we are inclined to believe, as far as we have got in this investigation that the goods you buy there are of an inferior grade and not up to standard. Then there is carfare and lost time, and above all the terrible damage to the community by forever putting the money out of local circulation.

No More Money Will Be Given Russia

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—While the present turmoil continues it is unlikely that the United States will advance any more money to Russia, officials said today. Credits previously extended and which have not been exhausted by purchases made here also will be held up.

The money heretofore advanced was given to the Kerensky organization. Now that it has been overthrown there is no disposition on the part of the United States to furnish any additional funds that might eventually find their way into the hands of Germany.

It is understood here that in any action along this line the United States will have the co-operation of Japan. Most of Russia's supplies at the present time are being sent from Japan by Vladivostok and practically unlimited credits have been given the Russians by the Japanese. Naturally this will be stopped for the present.

Secretary Maas of the Chamber of Commerce has secured positions for a number of local people lately and is constantly on the job trying to do such work as that, which is very commendable. Anybody who does a fellow man a kindness never loses out in the long run. All chickens come home to roost, good, bad and indifferent.

Beckhaus says in his add this morning that there is "Something Doing," and we happen to know that there is. Something pretty momentous, too, under and by virtue of which the dear people are liable to get a chance to hook onto some groceries cheap. Watch for his announcements in this paper.

Local items are interesting to read. If you have a piece of news that you would like to see in print, let us have it.
